Testimonial for Ronnie McNeill of Skillhaus Decorating Services.

I have been working in the building industry for the past 30 years and had my own Interior Design Company for 17 of them.

My attention to detail is exceptionally annoying to most, as is my tendency for being slightly OCDbut for me, this all leads to one thing and that is perfection. This is what I offer my clients and I accept nothing less from any trade who works as part of my team.

So what a relief it was when I met Ronnie right here at BNI when he came as a visitor over 12 months ago. I immediately knew that we were on the same wave length and have worked together on many of my projects ever since.

Ronnie's manners with my clients are impeccable to say the least, his time keeping is faultless and his work is simply exemplary.

I have just contracted Ronnie to work as part of a team on a refurbishment which is well in excess of £100K! Every single aspect of this home is going to be spectacular . With wallpapers costing well over £5K, a rather large solid oak staircase and over 30 internal oak doors all of which require fastidious attention, there really is no room for error!!!!

I have the uttermost respect for this man, he takes everything in his stride, he listens as much as he offers his expert opinion and he always goes above and beyond the call of duty whatever the size of project.

Every single client of mine has gone out of their way to let me know just how thrilled they have been with both the man that they have had working in their home as much as the work that has been carried out..... you don't get much better that!!

From my heart - a huge big thank you Ronnie - I have never been more proud to have a trade on my team and I look forward to many more years of working together.
